

Press Release: Nirvana Releases Nirvana Reporting Services

January 24, 2011

Nirvana Reporting Services Address Transparency and Risk Reporting

Nirvana Solutions is excited to announce the release of "Nirvana Reporting Services," a cost effective and scalable solution for alternative investment managers that seek increased transparency and risk management capabilities. Nirvana Reporting Services provides hedge funds, alternative investment managers, broker dealers and fund administrators a set of reports that address the regulatory, investor and marketing demands that have evolved post-Madoff debacle. "Our clients require accurate, timely and customizable reports now more than ever," states Shams Karim, CEO of Nirvana Solutions.

How It Works

Nirvana Reporting Services aggregates data across custodians and prime brokers. Reconciliation of trade data with the books and records of custodians, prime brokers and/or fund administrators is automated in order to produce reports.

The Results

Clients can begin their trading day with full confidence that their books and records are accurate. In addition, many of Nirvana clients are ramping up their marketing efforts. They need reports that allow them to address the operational, risk and transparency issues that investors demand today.

Available Now

Nirvana Reporting Services is now available to the public. Reports can be delivered daily via email or custom branded website. In addition, all reports can be downloaded into Excel or PDF. "Our clients require timely, accurate and flexible reports. Once they trust their data is clean and accurate, they like to use Excel to model, extend and extrapolate the data for their intraday use."

Nirvana Reporting Services is also available to clients who subscribe to Nirvana Real-Time, Nirvana's real-time portfolio management solution. Nirvana Reporting Services is our way of delivering value to the alternative investments marketplace that asked for better risk and transparency reporting.
